

I feel very privileged to have been appointed Deputy Headteacher at King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls. Since starting this job in January, I have been made to feel very welcome by the staff, pupils and parents and I am really enjoying my time here. I have been extremely impressed with the hard work and courteous nature I have seen demonstrated by the pupils. Before joining King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls I have been a Physics teacher for over 15 years and have previously worked at St Peter's Catholic School in Solihull as an Assistant Head Teacher and at Sandwell Academy as Head of Science. I believe that King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls has many strengths and the relationships between pupils, staff and parents are vital to ensure that we all work together so that pupils make great progress, enjoy their time at school and leave with excellent

GCSE results which will give them plenty of opportunities when they leave in Year 11.

I am passionate about ensuring pupils receive a high-quality education and, I have high expectations of the pupils and will continue to expect excellent behaviour, good manners, a positive attitude to learning and good punctuality. In my short time working here I have already introduced a number of new ideas:

Saturday Boosters – Year 11 students can attend revision lessons on a Saturday in Maths, English, Science and French. These sessions are well attended and allow students the opportunity to really boost their GCSE grades.

Golden Tickets – Students who consistently model our school values of 'Work Hard, Be Kind' are now awarded praise points for school culture. The pupils with the highest number of praise points each week will be awarded with a Golden Ticket in assembly. Each half term Golden ticket winners will receive a fun afternoon activity instead of their normal lessons to thank them for contributing positively to our school culture.

Lunch Time Activities – To help further develop social interactions and to increase student's enjoyment at school, during lunch times students can borrow a range of games such as Uno, Bananagrams, Articulate and Brain box. Students have really taken to this new idea and it is lovely seeing groups of students interacting positively and enjoying each other's company.

I look forward to working with you and your child in the future and helping them secure their best possible outcomes.

Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award

The Duke of Edinburgh Award has sprung into action this term, with 36 pupils from Year 9 embarking on a life changing experience. The DofE programme helps to develop essential skills for life and work and is a recognised mark of achievement by many colleges, sixth forms, and employers. There are four sections to complete at the bronze level of this award. They involve helping the community/environment, improving fitness, developing new skills, and completing a hiking expedition.

All 36 pupils are currently completing their physical, skill and volunteering components of the award. This will provide all pupils with some fantastic opportunities to support their local community and learn many new skills. Some of our pupils are learning to speak Mandarin, others are playing new music with a local band, and one of our pupils is performing new circus skills at her local dance group.

All our pupils must volunteer at least one hour of their time per week to help others in their local community. This can be anything that you desire, from coaching young children to litter picking in the park or simply helping an elderly neighbour. Our very own Ruby is leading a trampolining class at Newman University, whilst Alexandra is teaching younger children to perform aerial acrobatics with a circus company to name just a few of the great things our pupils are doing.

Regardless of what they are doing, all our pupils are keen to support the community and gain new skills to ensure they receive this prestigious award. We will be embarking on our expedition over two weekends in the Summer term which will be a fantastic step towards reaching their goals.

CAREERS

There has been a lot of careers work in school this term.

Every year group has experienced some careers activities in lessons, during National Apprenticeship Week (6th-12th Feb). Pupils heard from employers in industries linked to their subjects and heard about the different pathways into those jobs as well as at Labour Market Information to judge whether how much of a need there is for different jobs nationally and locally.

Year 9 9WF and 9VA took part in a STEM workshop, learning about working in engineering.

Year 9 have been looking at different routes in education is PSHE to support them with Options' Evening.

Year 10 had an employer afternoon in February, where they were able to speak to and see different employers and do an activity with them based in their role at work. Pupils were lucky enough to see an Aston Martin car and hear about how the car is built. They heard about working in pharmaceuticals and about how textiles are an integral part of the car industry.

Year 10 have also had talks on apprenticeships and T Levels; what they are and the pros and cons of those qualifications and where to apply for them. This will help them with their decisions for their post 16 route.

Year 10 had a taster day of post 16 education in March. Pupils went to either Lordwood Sixth Form or South and City College (Bournville Campus) to have taster sessions in many different subjects including, Chemistry, History, Motor Vehicle or construction. Pupils were able to experience A level standard lessons or vocational subjects.

Year 11 have had an apprenticeship talk, delivered by ASK as well as intensive support for post 16 applications.

If anyone needs any support with careers, please email Ms Hanratty (our new careers advisor) k.hanratty@nsg.kevibham.org

Year 9 & 10 Aspire Campus Experience Days

Year 10 Aspire students spent a day at Aston University where they went on a campus tour. They got to see the facilities not only lecture theatres but also the labs for practical work such as building cars for mechanical engineering and mock hospital suites for medicine.

Back in the lecture hall students then considered different scenarios for a range of students wanting to enter university and they had to select the most appropriate courses for them based on their stated interests, qualifications and preferred learning style. After this exercise which increased their understanding of how to read a university prospectus and familiarise themselves with some of the courses on offer, they then filled in their own university pathway.

There was also a chance to ask a wide range of current university students their experience of studying at university and what life on campus is like. Seeing the facilities available and experiencing campus life was inspiring for many of our students. They represented King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls extremely well, with excellent behaviour and some great questions asked.

Aston University

BIRMINGHAM UK

16 Year 9 Aspire students also went to Aston University to experience what life is like at university. This included a tour of the campus with current university students, Q&A with student ambassadors and sessions within a university lecture theatre. Several of the students said that it had inspired them to want to go to university.

Talk from the CEO of HSBC

Wednesday 8th March King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls were excited to host a talk from the CEO of HSBC Bank, Ian Stuart. We had a great turn out of students from all year groups and some students from Camp Hill Girls' and Turves Green Boys' also attended. It was an excellent opportunity for our students to hear from someone who has risen to the top of his field, to help inspire them to achieve their goals. There was a real buzz from our students at the end of his speech and they seemed to have both enjoyed it and been inspired. It was lovely to see that they were confident enough to approach Ian at the end one to one to ask him further questions and take photos with him.

made it clear that there are a wide range of academic skills required within banking, not only finance and accounting but he also emphasised the roles within data analysis, computing and foreign languages.

He acknowledged that on International Women's Day and within King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls that inclusion is now a big priority within HSBC, referring to how important it is that so many senior

Ian Stuart shared how he had come from a working class background and had taken an unconventional route to reach his current position. He explained how he members in his team are now women. He also, emphasised how increasing access for employees with disabilities was a real passion of his due to having personal experiences of this within his family. Our students asked him a wide range of probing and insightful questions, it was great to see how engaged and inquisitive they were. They all seemed to really benefit from this experience, which was facilitated by Ian's personable approach and engaging speech. Before meeting him I don't imagine many of our students would have thought they would be able to relate to someone in his position, however by the end they were inspired to see that he had come from a background that was familiar to many of them and has risen to the top of his field though hard work, determination and a passion for his job. I am proud of both how engaged our students were and how willing they were to ask challenging questions.

Six the Musical

On Friday 3rd March Miss Adey, Mrs Shackell-York and Mrs Ricketts took a group of 32 pupils to the Birmingham Hippodrome to watch Six the Musical, a musical about Henry VIII's six wives. This was a great opportunity for all pupils who came, especially those that had never been to the theatre before, and were able to see the show first hand in all its glory. In particular, Year 9s, who were dancing in their seats, after learning the finale dance in their PE/dance lessons earlier in the year. As well as it being a musical, it was an educational trip as pupils learnt the history and background of each wife. All pupils had a great time and absolutely loved the show, there was even Six the Musical karaoke in the minibuses on the way back home. All pupils were a credit to the school and were an absolute pleasure to take to the theatre.

WHOLE SCHOOL READING

This Spring Term, across the school, pupils have been getting their noses into books and reading like never before – in the Library, of course, but also in more lessons and during morning form time.

We are nearly at the end of our second term of this year's 'Guided Reading' Form Time Programme. This term, Year 7 pupils started reading Onjali Q Raúf's 'The Boy at the Back of the Class', a humorous and heartfelt story of a Syrian refugee. Year 8s finished reading the moving historical novel, 'The Book Thief', before also exploring the refugee experience in Birmingham-born author Benjamin Zephaniah's modern classic, 'Refugee Boy'. Meanwhile, Year 9 forms have been reading the Whitbread Award-winning 'Coram Boy' by Jamila Gavin which centres on the experiences of 'foundling' children in 18th century London. Form groups have developed brilliant morning reading routines, and many pupils across the school have shown real interest and insight into these challenging reads.

Every week, Form Tutors also share a short news article in our weekly 'Newsweek' activity. This term, topics read about and discussed have ranged from the publication of Prince Harry's controversial memoir, to the ban on single-use cutlery, to important reflections on the first anniversary of the barbaric invasion of Ukraine by Russia under Vladimir Putin. This weekly reading activity gives pupils the chance to learn about - and share their views - on some of the events that are shaping the country and the wider world.

The results of our school's response to the 2023 National Literacy Trust's annual survey tell us that pupils at King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls love of reading has really increased since the same time last year. We also learnt our pupils like when they find books that have characters they can relate to, and love having books personally recommended to them. All shelves in the library have recently been re-stocked with loads of new books, many of which were request by our pupils through a suggestion box. Mrs Dunnaker is always keen to give recommendations and will always find something that every pupil will love to read!

If you want to discuss reading or literacy at the school, please contact Mr Marchese-Fry, Mrs Dunnaker (our fabulous Librarian) or any of the English teachers.

Assistant Headteacher - Mrs Elliott

Being a part of King Edward VI Northfield School for Girls as an Assistant Headteacher since January, I have quickly become proud to say I am part of a community that cares. Staff, students and parents have not only been welcoming but also friendly; it is clear to see the expectations of parents/carers is high and this is what I will continue to contribute towards. The last few months have gone very fast and I can honestly say that I feel like I have been here for more than a term- they say time flies when you are having fun, right?

I started my career journey as a Forensic Scientist. I wanted to make a difference to the world by having a positive impact on people's lives. I soon realised I wanted to not only impact, but change people's lives...this is what I love about this school; the strong belief of the power of education to change lives. Young people have only one chance and we must get it right for them. I have worked in various schools in a range of diverse areas throughout my 19 year career in education but my ethos remains unchanged. All students have the right to the same educational experience, irrespective of their background, homelife and or special educational needs. This is why I am passionate that quality first teaching is a priority if we want to see our pupils becoming excellent learners who are self-motivated, resilient, ambitious and articulate. My role in ensuring that each student receives the same high quality teaching experience consistently across the school has already started and the impact is evident. Students are entering classrooms and getting on with their 'Do Now' activity so there is no time wasted in learning. I have given various assemblies on the importance of why every minute counts in lessons and why we want all our students to be thinking hard and participating in every lesson. All classrooms have mini whiteboards so teachers can ask their class questions continually throughout the lesson to ensure 100% participation; students have commented how they enjoy using the mini whiteboards.

I am excited about my future and look forward in contributing to the positive, happy, nurturing environment whereby our students are aspirational, successful and embrace all opportunities so they can achieve the best possible outcomes.

The Festival of Quilts Competition

Theme - My Future

We are looking to enter a school quilt into this year's quilt show. Any one interested in being part of the team should come and see Mrs Hughes or Mrs Murphy during Chrysalis After School Club on Monday afternoons.

Blackwell Adventure Centre

Year 10 Aspire students went to Blackwell Adventure to develop their team leadership, resilience and communication skills through active team tasks. Charlee easily took to a leadership role. Meanwhile Niamh and Grace worked together effectively to scale the highest tower of crates.

Everyone worked effectively and had fun.

Fish Sustainability and Nutrition

We were delighted to be one of 250 schools in the UK that received Alaska pink salmon, courtesy of the Food Teachers Centre and Alaska Seafood UK - 10,000 salmon fillets were sent to schools! Our school was one of the lucky schools.

It's part of the Fish Heroes project, which encourages young people to learn about, cook and taste fish. Pupils also learnt about the health benefits of fish in the diet (did you know that we are all recommended to eat 2 portions a week?), as well as aspects of sustainability. Children in the UK eat just 84g of fish/fish products a week, of which only 21g is oily fish - way below recommendations.

Year 10 pupils will cook a variety of salmon based dishes in the coming weeks, learning new food skills which they will be able to use in the future. As part of the lesson, they will have the opportunity to taste the salmon dishes they prepare. Perhaps your child will be inspired and cook for you at home too?

This is our second year receiving the salmon and last year was an amazing experience - from the delivery, cooking and tasting of Alaska pink salmon. Pupils really enjoyed their time and learnt many important life skills.

Rock and Pop

On Wednesday 22nd March, Rock and Pop ensemble took part in Services for Education's Rock and Pop Area Gala concert at South and City College in Digbeth. On arriving at the college, we watched another school complete their sound check before taking the stage themselves. The sound check allowed the band to make sure they had everything they need for their equipment on stage and for the college tech team to make sure each band member could be heard by the audience when they were performing. We then watched the other schools perform their sound checks where I saw our pupils being supportive and cheering on the other schools. At half past 6 the concert started, the band got up on stage and performed: One way or another, Toxic and Plug in Baby. They performed brilliantly, gave lots of stage presence and interacted with the audience on stage. They got lots of praise from the audience and even the college tech team told us they thought they were one of the best there! A huge thank you to Pete and Wes, the Services For Education staff who have been coming in on a Thursday after school to support the pupils with their rehearsal and a massive well done to: Lily, Isobel, Ale, Jack, and Grace who have worked so hard, put on an energetic performance and were a huge credit to the school!

Extra Curricular Yoga

You may recognise me from the Main Office, I am the Headteacher's PA and Office Manager. As well as working at KEVI Northfield School for Girls, I also teach Hatha Yoga, Yin Yoga and Meditation outside of school #Heart to Sole Yoga. In December 2019, I qualified in 200 hours Kundalini Tantra Yoga with Yoga Alliance. I was fortunate to travel to India for four weeks to complete my training which was an amazing experience. Since then, I have continued to develop my knowledge and understanding in different aspects of Yoga and Meditation with Kashish Yoga School in Goa, South India. I wake up at 5.00am every day to do my own practice of Yoga and Meditation to enable me to be calm and collected in the main reception.

I feel raising awareness of Yoga and Meditation to aid well-being and mindfulness is important for everyone especially in young people, therefore I have introduced a Yoga class after school every Wednesday in the Dance Studio as part of the Extra Curricular Activities on offer to pupils in school. It has been a privilege to be able to teach the pupils who attend. Pupils get to see their own development in practicing and fine tuning the postures (asanas) week on week. Pupils practise and learn breathing techniques to use in and outside of the class to aid relaxation and calmness of mind.

The classes will continue after the Easter Holidays at the request of the pupils who attend, all pupils are welcome to come along. Attendance will count for a stamp on your Stay Active Booklet. Remember, stamps mean prizes! Please don't take my word on the benefits of introducing Yoga at KEVI NSG, please read the testimonials from Year 7 pupils who regularly attend.

'Namaste'
Miss Killeen

Hi, I am Millie and I attend Yoga. In Yoga we can sit down and take the biggest breaths we have taken all day. It is where we come together to refresh our minds; whether we do tree pose or warrior poses, it's a very fun yet peaceful way to do PE. At the end of the session, we listen to the Instructor's Poem she has in store for us.

Millie Year 7

Hi I'm Poppy and I attend Yoga. Yoga is a relaxing way to end the day and take the biggest breath you've had in a while. During the session, we stretch and try some balancing. At the start of the session, we get to do a breathing exercise where we track our breathing. At the end of the session, we get to relax while the Instructor (Miss Killeen) reads us a poem at the end of the session. I recommend going to relax and wind down.

Poppy Year 7

My name is Zara and I attend Yoga every Wednesday. It's very nice way to relax after a long and busy day at school. We do things like breathing, warrior poses and things like that. At the start and end of the session we relax as we listen to the teacher's soothing voice. I definitely recommend this club if you want to calm down after a long day at school.

Zara Year 7

SPORTS UP-DATE

Our extra-curricular clubs are still in full swing and pupils are continuing to collect signatures to record their attendance in their Stay Active booklets. In the past couple of weeks we have had three pupils reach the milestone of 50 signatures, meaning they have attended 50 clubs since September!! Well done to Imogen, Lleani and Maisy who have now earned their free place on the summer reward trip to Drayton Manor! Please encourage your child to come along to PE clubs and work towards collecting 5 signatures when she will earn a prize in the next half termly draw. Also look out for the summer term clubs timetable which will include cricket, rounders and a recreational running club.

Erin represented KENS in The Schools Tumbling Regional competition. As Erin placed Gold for the West Midlands it now means she will compete in the GB Nationals representing KENS on 10th May 2023 in Stoke on Trent. Erin has been attending Fusion Gymnastics for 7 years and the dedication and commitment she displays means she is a wonderful role model for our pupils.

Amongst the demanding schedule of Year 11 revision, Jaeda continues to achieve immense success in her sport of Tumbling with Revolution Gymnastics. In November she travelled to Bulgaria for the Junior Tumbling World Championships where she came away with a silver medal! We are immensely proud of how she has juggled her gymnastics with her commitments in school over the years and wish her every success in her future.
